Intern: Spring 2011 (1 month)

Graphic Designer: Spring 2011 - Spring 2012

As an intern, I was mostly responsible for working on the company's internal projects. I was immediately hired as a new employee before completing the 3-month internship because of my work ethic, technical skill and ability to adapt my designs to those already created.

As an employee of a small company, I was able to be involved in all areas of running a design firm from meeting with the clients and creating quotes to the final testing and launch of their projects. I was one of two in-house designers.
